

Christmas in Mars.

The snoo is on the whick-whack trees,
 The hilojackthums look forlorn;
The monkta-ra-ras sit and sneeze
 Their greeting to the Krismas morn;
The snick-dick and the waggle-finck
 Have ceased to snick and wag;
The cinch-buggazzam's lost his cinch,
 And the paxwax has a jag!

So its tirra-lirra-lirra lum,
 And terry-terry goo;
And tirra-lirra lum some more
 And terry-terry, too!

Old Sindy Claws has made his rounds,
 With yips and flums and gilly-goops;
All babies weighing umptee pounds
 Received their stockums full of snoops.
The older wops got ribbledibs
 And woozy wogs, all nice and seft;
The pretty yums got loads of fibs,
 And the naughty snooks got—left.

So it's peasy-weasy wumsy wum,
 And chizzle-wizzle wee;
And peasy-weasy wum two times,
 And chizzle-wizzle three!

The squeezerums, dressed up in whangs,
 The squeezeresses take to ride
In huggersnugs, with jingle jangs,
 And busskerbuss them as they glide!
And so the Krismas day on Mars
 Soon passes with its cheer and mirth—
The same glad time among the stars
 It is upon the gay old earth!

So its hitty-ditty deedle dum,
 And kitchy-witch boo!
Enough of nonsense is enough,
 And so good-day to you!
